Profile

Full-stack developer building web applications end to end: responsive frontends, backend APIs, authentication, databases and the application architecture that connects them. Currently building IELTSHUB, an IELTS practice platform. Secondary interest in applied AI/ML features inside real product applications.

Selected Projects

IELTSHUB - IELTS practice platform (in development)

React exam workspace with local draft recovery, Laravel services for publication, marking and assessment, and a Filament console for admins and teachers. Shared TypeScript contracts published as an OpenAPI specification. Playwright browser tests and PHPUnit suites run in CI on every push.

JobFlow AI - AI job-search workspace (live)

Next.js workspace that captures postings from text, PDFs, screenshots and links, tracks applications through a pipeline and matches a resume against each role. Frontend API types are generated from the OpenAPI document; breaking contract changes fail CI. github.com/HasibulIslam007/jobflow_frontend

MarketPlace - full-stack marketplace

Next.js storefront over an Express and Prisma API on PostgreSQL, with JWT authentication, catalog management, orders and SSLCommerz sandbox checkout.

AImage - AI image editing (live)

Colorization, background removal and restoration in one interface, built for speed and simplicity. github.com/HasibulIslam007/aimage

HomeHunt - rental housing platform (live)

Typed Next.js platform with smart search filters, broker-free listings, contact forms and role-based access via JWT. github.com/HasibulIslam007/homehunt_frontend
